The Sports Information Department wishes to acknowledge Steve Boda and Jim Wainwright for their outstanding contributions to the 1980 Notre Dame Football Guide. Boda's untiring efforts through the years have provided the guide with its superb record section, all-time lineups and rosters along with numerous other compilations. Wainwright illustrated the cover of this year's guide and has been a frequent artistic contributor to Notre Dame athletic publications in recent years.

Press Box Facilities

Both Amfax and Sports/Comm facsimile and computer transmission services will be available this fall in the Notre Dame Stadium press box. The Notre Dame Sports Information Department also will have available telephones for use by media representatives utilizing their own transmission machines. Newspapers will be billed on a per-game, pro-rated basis — still providing considerable savings over costs of one-time installation charges for individual games.

Youthful Irish Confront Tough '80 Task

When Notre Dame football coach Dan Devine places his 1980 Fighting Irish stock on the college football commodities exchange this fall, he naturally hopes the assets outweigh the liabilities on the open market.

Potential investors will point to the return of 14 of 22 starters, eight of them on defense, among 37 letter-winners back overall. Yet, among the 17 monogram-winners missing are quarterback Rusty Lisch, All-Americans Vagas Ferguson at halfback and Tim Foley at tackle — plus defensive regulars Dave Waymer, Bobby Leopold and Mike Whittington. Ferguson departed as holder of virtually every rushing record in Irish annals.

Additional personnel assets include:

- A trio of pass receivers — tight end Dean Masztak, split end Tony Hunter and flanker Pete Holohan — that might rank as the best in Notre Dame history.
- Good overall experience on defense where eight lettermen return in the secondary and seven more are back on the defensive line.
- Impressive depth at the running back spots where veteran halfback Jim Stone is the sole senior among the top eight halfbacks and fullbacks.

Other question marks, or liabilities, include:

- An undecided quarterback situation in which senior Mike Courey boasts a slight edge over classmates Tim Koegel and Greg Knafelc heading into fall camp.
- General inexperience on the offensive line, with the exception of senior all-star candidates John Scully at center and Tim Huffman at guard.
- An overall youthful look that features 14 sophomores and juniors among the 22 projected starters for 1980.

Any assessment of the net worth of the Irish unit this fall also must include a look at a particularly-testing schedule that features five bowl teams from a year ago. Notre Dame opens with Big Ten powerhouses Purdue and Michigan — and closes out with November road contests against defending national champion Alabama and runnerup Southern Cal.

Notre Dame managed a 7-4 mark last year against a schedule NCAA statisticians ranked fourth toughest in the country. Devine only hopes his Irish can improve on that profit margin in 1980 and pay dividends, specifically in the form of a fourth post-season bowl appearance in the last five seasons. But he knows it won't be easy.

"The one single characteristic that seems most apparent to me is that this is still an extremely young Notre Dame football team," says Devine. "If we had one distinct item cause problems for us last fall it was injuries. But those injuries enabled a great number of freshmen and sophomores to gain experience each of the last few years. We're hopeful that some of that experience will pay off for us this fall. If that happens, the youthfulness that some consider a liability for us might become an asset before we're finished.

"Our success offensively probably will depend to a great extent on who ends up playing quarterback. Mike Courey is ahead of the pack right now based on his play last spring, but Tim Koegel and Greg Knafelc aren't far behind. I think any of the three could do a capable job, but we're hoping one of them unquestionably will take charge this fall.

"Our offensive line will be particularly young and, with the exception of Jim Stone, our running backs are all underclassmen. We could have as many as five sophomores starting in those two areas. I would match our receivers with those of almost any team in the country this year — and that further points to the necessity of locating a quarterback.

"We had only three senior starters on defense last year, and we'll go into fall practice with the same number this season. It's no secret that we're looking for great overall improvement in our defensive play. We've got to do a better job stopping people, and we're hopeful a year's added experience for so many returnees will make a difference. With the number of people coming back, specifically on the defensive line and in the secondary, our toughest job may be determining our best lineup.

"It's obvious there is talent on this football team. We'll have strong leadership from seniors like John Hankerd, Scott Zettek, Tom Gibbons, Tim Huffman, John Scully and Pete Holohan. And underclassmen such as Bob Crable, Tony Hunter, Dean Masztak and Steve Cichy certainly will be able to help us. We hope to be able to avoid the injuries we faced last fall. If we can do that, even against the schedule we play we'll have a chance to be a good football team."

Offense

Dean Masztak, Tony Hunter and Pete Holohan make up the heart of an especially-talented corps of pass catchers. Veteran seniors John Scully and Tim Huffman will anchor the offensive front. And halfbacks Phil Carter and Jim Stone, along with fullbacks Pete Buchanan and John Sweeney, head up a deep group of ballcarriers.

That leaves the quarterback spot — where senior Mike Courey gained the springtime advantage — as the keynote position in any examination of Notre Dame's offensive firepower for 1980. Courey got the best of the wide-open competition last spring with fellow seniors Tim Koegel and Greg Knafelc, so he'll rate the number-one designation once the Irish open practice again. But the tussle is far from over, as far as Dan Devine is concerned.

"You might say Mike earned the poll position with his performance during spring ball," the Irish head coach says. "He'll be on top when the race begins, but I still expect plenty of competition for the spot before we open against Purdue." Courey has played in 13 varsity games during his first three seasons, while Koegel has seen action in 18 and Knafelc 11.

Sophomore Phil Carter will have the challenging task of filling Vagas Ferguson's shoes at halfback. His 5.4-yard average per carry last fall led all Notre Dame runners — thanks to a late-season surge that produced 145 yards for the speedy yet powerful back. Veteran senior Jim Stone will run right at Carter's heels after contributing 458 yards over the past three seasons. Also a standout kickoff return specialist, he ranked sixth nationally in '79 with a 25.9-yard average.

Newcomer John Sweeney took over at fullback a year ago when projected starter Pete Buchanan was felled by a season-ending broken ankle — and the two sophomores should contest that spot once fall drills begin. Buchanan played more minutes than any other freshman in '78, but the ankle injury eliminated him from the fullback picture 10 days prior to last season's opener. He sat out spring drills, but Irish coaches expect him back at full strength. Sweeney came on to start 10 games, serving primarily as a blocking back while carrying only nine times. Dependable junior Ty Barber, the second-leading Irish rusher last fall with 172 yards, will be a help at both halfback and fullback.

Masztak, whose split receiver moves and agility complement his tight end size, paced Notre Dame receivers with 28 grabs in '79. A certain national honor candidate, he's quite capably backed up by two-year lettermen Nick Vehr and Marty Detmer.

Hunter hit the Irish football scene with a bang last fall, thanks to his spectacular 25.6-yard average per reception. That mark, on 27 catches for 690 yards, is a Notre Dame record. Junior Dave Condeni, out all last fall with elbow bone chips, also is available. Holohan moves into his third straight season as Devine's regular at flanker. The one-time quarterback accounted for 22 receptions for 386 yards in '79.

"I can't imagine many other schools anywhere with three better receivers than Masztak, Hunter and Holohan," Devine says. "They're all proven performers, and they'll certainly make the job of whoever plays quarterback a pleasant one."

Though the Irish lost a trio of regulars from their offensive line, the two returning starters — center and tri-captain John Scully and guard Tim Huffman, both seniors — each should be deserving of all-star consideration. Huffman, pointing for his third campaign as a regular, holds down the right guard spot, while senior Bob Burger claimed the left side opening during the spring. Originally a walk-on, Burger can expect a strong push from sophomore Tom Thayer.

The two tackle jobs vacated by Tim Foley and Rob Martinovich go to junior Phil Pozderac on the right side and sophomore Randy Ellis at left tackle. Pozderac is the sole returning letterman anywhere on the line other than Scully and Huffman. The comparatively young starting quintet will be supported by Todd Bruni and Thayer at guard, sophomores Mike Shiner and John Putzstuck at tackle and junior Larry Kissner at center. Senior Bill Siewe again will handle long snaps and placements.

"We've got a pretty good combination of old and new faces on our offensive line," points out Devine. "We'll be counting on the more experienced people like Huffman and Scully to hold things together until some of the sophomores get a few games under their belts."

Defense

If experience converts efficiently into ability, Notre Dame's defense should be markedly improved in 1980 — simply because of the large number of returnees with goodly amounts of playing time behind them. Nineteen lettermen, eight of them starters in '79, return, including eight in the defensive backfield and seven on the line.

The Irish especially hope better health on the defensive front will foreshadow consistency in stopping the run. That wish may come true for Dan Devine if the Irish coach can count on Scott Zettek for a full tour of duty. The talented senior left tackle has been saddled with knee problems in past campaigns — though he started eight games a year ago — but sat out spring contact to make sure the knees will be at full strength for fall activity. Junior Kevin Griffith is the incumbent at right tackle, with senior Don Kidd also a capable hand.

Senior John Hankerd, a starter at end each of the past two seasons, will anchor that post on the left side again in '80. He led all down linemen in stops last fall as well as tackles for losses. A converted linebacker like Griffith, his foot speed is a great asset. Junior Joe Gramke will care for the opposite flank after opening in every game last season at either end or tackle. Junior Pat Kramer and sophomore Jeff Lueken, both letterwinners as well, are battleproven supporters.

"We so seldom had the same people available from week to week last fall, it became difficult to maintain any sort of consistency on the defensive line," says Devine. "There are plenty of people available who have played before, if we can keep them all healthy. Scott Zettek has shown great ability, and players like John Hankerd and Joe Gramke have been very dependable the last several years."

Though Notre Dame lost two of its three starting linebackers to graduation, the lone returnee is a great one — record-setting junior linebacker Bob Crable, another of the Irish tri-captains for 1980. A third-team All-American last fall, he established a single-season tackle standard with 187 stops. Junior Tony Belden and sophomore Mark Zavagnin are the fresh faces at the outside slots. Belden helped at both linebacker and fullback last fall, while Zavagnin merited three starting assignments as a freshman. Senior Brendan Moynihan is the top reserve, with juniors John Rice and Ron Mishler and sophomore Joe Rudzinski next in line.

"Bob Crable turned into the brightest star of our whole defensive unit last year, and we're counting on two more great seasons from him. His enthusiasm and overall ability should be a big help to people like Tony Belden and Mark Zavagnin," Devine says.

Speedy sophomore Dave Duerson will be the only newcomer in the Irish secondary — where senior Tom Gibbons at free safety and juniors Steve Cichy and John Krimm at strong safety and right cornerback, respectively, all are fixtures. Duerson will fill in for Dave Waymer — the only other starter missing besides linebackers Bobby Leopold and Mike Whittington — at left cornerback. But he's hardly a newcomer after starting seven games in '79 when injuries hampered Waymer, Krimm and Gibbons, and pacing Irish punt returners with a 17.4-yard mean.

Gibbons, the third Notre Dame tri-captain, will be starting for his third year with seven career interceptions to his credit. Cichy, who many expected to miss '79 because of a bothersome back injury, rebounded to lead the secondary in tackles and receive honorable mention All-America notice. Previous letterwinners back to lend a hand include senior cornerback Dick Boushka, senior safeties Angelo Fasano and Tom DeSiato and sophomore free safety Rod Bone.

"The secondary is another area where we were hit hard by injuries last fall," says Devine. "But Tom Gibbons, Steve Cichy and John Krimm all know their way around, and I don't think Dave Duerson will have any problem fitting into that group. There are lots of other people behind them with playing experience, so we should be alright if the returnees we have show the kind of improvement we would like."

Dick Boushka, who finished with a 36.0-yard average in '79 while doing all the Irish punting, is back for a final season. But he'll have to fight off a strong challenge from junior walk-on Brian Whelan, along with those of several other walk-ons.

Notre Dame Stadium

A myriad of college football legends — including six Notre Dame Heisman Trophy winners and dozens more legendary players and coaches on both sides of the field—have appeared in the Notre Dame Stadium that officially celebrated its 50th season of use in 1979.

The Fighting Irish first played their games on Cartier Field, located behind the Athletic and Convocation Center and still utilized as part of Notre Dame's football practice complex. But as the University's national football reputation expanded thanks to the coaching success of Knute Rockne, the need for a new home for the Irish was voiced since no more than 30,000 fans could squeeze into the Cartier facility.

Architectural blueprints and bids were received from prominent contractors throughout the nation once plans became more specific by 1929. The Osborn Engineering Company, which had designed more than 50 stadia in the country—including Comiskey Park in Chicago, Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds in New York City, and facilities at Michigan, Indiana, Purdue and Minnesota—was awarded the contract and excavation began that summer.

Actual labor on the foundations of the Stadium did not commence until April, 1930, but four months later Notre Dame Stadium opened its 18 gates and assumed its place as a campus landmark. Five hundred construction workers, who required a ton of food each day to furnish energy for their labors, actually built the Stadium.

The Stadium measures a half-mile in circumference, stands 45 feet high and features a glass-enclosed press box rising 60 feet above ground level and originally accommodating 264 writers plus facilities for photographers and radio and television broadcasters. There are more than 2,000,000 bricks in the edifice which, if laid end to end, would reach from Notre Dame to the Cleveland, Ohio, waterfront 300 miles away.

If the 400 tons of steel used in its construction were converted into bullets, each weighing two ounces, the total production would be almost 6,500,000 bullets. If these were fed steadily into a machine gun shooting 100 per minute, the trigger would remain depressed for 44 days and 10 hours before exhausting the supply.

The 15,000 cubic yards of concrete, if made into a tower 10 feet square, would reach a height of more than four times that of the John Hancock Building in Chicago. The total cost of construction exceeded $750,000, and architecturally the Notre Dame Stadium was patterned, on a smaller scale, after the University of Michigan's mammoth stadium.

Though Rockne had a chance to coach in the new facility only in its initial season of use, he took a personal hand in its design. The sod from Cartier Field was transplanted into the new Stadium, but Rockne insisted on its use for football only. He kept the area between the field and the stands small to keep sideline guests, as he called them, to a minimum—and he personally supervised the parking and traffic system that basically is the same one in use today.

With a crowd on hand far less than the 54,000 capacity—the Irish opened the facility by defeating Southern Methodist 20-14 on October 4, 1930. Official dedication ceremonies came a week later against traditional foe Navy. This time, more than 40,000 fans cheered a 26-2 triumph over the Midshipmen. Frank E. Hering, captain of the 1898 team and the first Notre Dame coach as well as president of the Alumni Association, delivered the major speech during the ceremonies.

It took another year before the Irish played before their first capacity crowd (50,731 for the '31 Southern Cal game), but full houses and Notre Dame victories have been the rule rather than the exception. Since that 1930 opening, the Irish have compiled an impressive 181-48-4 (.785) mark in Notre Dame Stadium, while an average of 49,718 spectators have watched.

During 20 of those seasons the Irish did not lose a home game. Beginning with a 27-20 victory over Northwestern on November 21, 1942, and ending with a 28-14 loss to Purdue on October 7, 1950—Notre Dame won 28 consecutive games in Notre Dame Stadium.

Notre Dame's largest crowd ever to witness a game in the Stadium was 61,296 in a 24-6 loss to Purdue on October 6, 1962. However, attendance figures since 1966 have been based on paid admissions, rather than total in the house, thus accounting for the familiar 59,075 figure every week. Since that 1966 season every Irish home game, with the exception of a Thanksgiving Day matchup with Air Force in 1973, has been a sellout.

Navy again was the opponent last fall when Notre Dame celebrated the 50th season of service of Notre Dame Stadium. This time the Irish prevailed 14-0 in a game that featured commemorative edition tickets which were authentic reproductions of those used for the 1930 dedication game.

The University of Notre Dame du Lac

The University of Notre Dame was founded in 1842 by a young priest of a French missionary order called the Congregation of the Holy Cross. Father Edward F. Sorin started his school in the northern Indiana wilderness with about $300 and three log buildings in bad repair, and in 1844 he received a charter from the state legislature. His initial educational program adapted the classic liberal-arts curriculum to the needs of the frontier.

The University was governed by the Holy Cross Fathers until 1967 when it became the first major Catholic university to transfer governance to a lay Board of Trustees.

Edmund A. Stephan, an attorney from Chicago, Illinois, has been chairman of the Board of Trustees since the 1967 reorganization, and Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., the 15th president of Notre Dame, has headed the University since 1952.

Notre Dame's 1,250-acre campus, with its twin lakes and wooded areas, is located just north of the city limits of South Bend, Ind., which has a population of around 130,000. Its physical plant of more than 95 buildings has an insured replacement value of $250 million. Some two dozen buildings, valued at around $80 million, have been erected during the last 20 years, including one of the world's largest collegiate libraries.

Notre Dame's main academic units are the four undergraduate colleges—Arts and Letters, Science, Engineering, and Business Administration—and the Law School. There is no separate graduate faculty, but virtually all the academic departments also offer advanced degree programs.

There are also five University institutes: The Center for the Study of Man in Contemporary Society; Lobund Laboratory (for germfree animal research); the Radiation Laboratory; the Institute for International Studies, and the Institute for Urban Studies.

The University's Center for Continuing Education offers a wide range of opportunities for lifelong learning at all educational levels.

The University library system contains about 1.3 million volumes, the bulk of which are housed in the Memorial Library. The library has an acquisition rate of some 50,000 volumes a year.

Notre Dame's teaching and research faculty numbers about 690, almost all full-time. There are an additional 85 persons classified as professional specialists and research fellows. Nine of 10 members of the faculty are lay persons, and 80 percent of the entire faculty have doctorates or the equivalent.

Admission is highly competitive with about seven applicants for each freshman class position. The University actively seeks qualified members of minority groups (now six per cent of its undergraduate population) and while the vast majority of its students are Catholic, religion is not considered in screening applicants. The undergraduate enrollment is 6,800. Women were admitted to undergraduate studies in the fall of 1972, and Notre Dame, whose graduate programs always have been open to women, is now completely coeducational. A total of 1,000 students are in the graduate programs, and another 600 in Law School or in the Master's in Business Administration. Notre Dame also has a study exchange program with neighboring Saint Mary's College

The residence hall is the basic unit of competition in Notre Dame's extensive intramural athletic program. While intercollegiate sports, particularly Notre Dame's legendary football teams, are an important facet of student life, the University's varsity athletes meet the same academic standards required of all students. Notre Dame ranks among the leaders in the number of postgraduate NCAA scholarship awards given to its athletes.

Some facts from a recent freshman profile provide an insight into the present-day Notre Dame student: 77 percent finished in the top 10 percent of their high school classes; another 10 percent were presidents of their senior classes or student bodies, while 19 percent were captains of at least one varsity athletic team.

About half of Notre Dame's seniors go on to graduate or professional schools, and Notre Dame leads all Catholic universities and ranks high among all universities in the number of Woodrow Wilson, Danforth and National Science Foundation graduate fellowships won by its seniors in nationwide competition.

The University has some 62,000 alumni around the world, most of them organized into a network of 176 alumni clubs. A regionally representative 16-member Board of Directors governs activities of the Alumni Association, and the association's president is an ex-officio member of the University's Board of Trustees. Alumni annual giving regularly exceeds $5 million, and more than half of Notre Dame's alumni contribute. Both statistics rank Notre Dame high in comparison with peer institutions. Two-thirds of Notre Dame's alumni have been graduated since 1950.

Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, C.S.C.

Executive Vice President and Chairman, Faculty Board in Control of Athletics

The University of Notre Dame celebrated a pair of noteworthy silver anniversaries in 1977. The Reverends Theodore M. Hesburgh and Edmund P. Joyce both concluded their twenty-fifth year at the University in their present capacities—Hesburgh as president and Joyce as executive vice president and treasurer.

Both men have become nationally renowned in their respective fields and have been frequently decorated for their contributions to them. Probably the most fitting honor was bestowed upon Father Joyce in December of 1977, when he received the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame's Distinguished American Award — in the process joining a list of prominent former recipients that includes Father Hesburgh, Vince Lombardi, Bob Hope and Archibald MacLeish.

Father Joyce's accomplishments have not been limited to the Notre Dame campus but extend to athletics across the nation. However, while devoting a vast amount of time to the advanced planning of the University, Father Joyce serves as Chairman of the University Building Committee. In this capacity and that as Chairman of the Faculty Board in Control of Athletics he coordinated the planning and construction of the Athletic and Convocation Center. University officials have announced that upon his retirement this building will be renamed the Joyce Athletic and Convocation Center in his honor.

A native of Spartanburg, S.C., Father Joyce was graduated magna cum laude from Notre Dame with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1937. He became a certified public accountant in 1939. Six years later, he enrolled in the Holy Cross Seminary—the theological house of studies of the Congregation of Holy Cross.

He was ordained a priest in the Sacred Heart Church at Notre Dame in 1949. Following his ordination, Father Joyce was named assistant vice president for business affairs at Notre Dame and then became acting vice president in 1950.

Two years later, he was appointed executive vice president and second in the University's chain of command.

Father Joyce pursued graduate study at Oxford University in England and holds honorary doctorates from the College of St. Thomas in St. Paul, Minn., and Belmont Abbey College. He is a member of the Board of Visitors of the United States Naval Academy and was awarded the Exceptional Service Medal by the Air Force.

Although he tells the story with tongue in cheek, Father Joyce played basketball for Oxford University when that hallowed English seat of learning won the European Championship.

Father Joyce represented Notre Dame at the White House Conference on Education in 1955 and also has been a trustee of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Edward W. Krause

Athletic Director

Few have contributed as much to Fighting Irish athletics as Edward W. (Moose) Krause since he came to Notre Dame as a student 50 years ago.

Krause was born February 2, 1913, in Chicago, Illinois, where he was raised and got his initiation to sports. The 6-3, 200-pounder starred in athletics at DeLaSalle High School on Chicago's South Side.

Although he earned three football monograms as a regular tackle in 1931, '32 and '33, his biggest college athletic heroics were accomplished on the basketball court as a center. For these outstanding accomplishments he was inducted into the National Basketball Hall of Fame in April of 1976. Krause gained All-American honors in basketball and football and also earned a letter in track while throwing the javelin.

During three seasons of play, Krause scored 547 points and led the Irish to 54 wins against 12 losses. Once, against Butler, Moose scored an impossible last second field goal while lying sprawled on the floor after a collision with another player. So dominant was Krause in the middle that the three-second lane was conceived as a way to control him.

After graduating cum laude with a degree in journalism in 1934, he coached basketball and football at St. Mary's (Minn.) College, then at Holy Cross and finally six seasons as head basketball coach at Notre Dame. His record for the Irish was 98-48. Besides handling the cage club, he was Notre Dame's line coach for six years.

On February 7, 1948, Krause was appointed assistant athletic director at Notre Dame. In this capacity he relieved athletic director and coach Frank Leahy from administrative duties. Named athletic director on March 22, 1949, Krause completed his 31st year in that position last spring.

Krause has been recognized by many groups for his civic and humanitarian as well as athletic contributions. He was inducted into the Knights of Malta at ceremonies conducted by Cardinal Cooke in St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City, the highest honor a Catholic layman can receive.

The City of Hope National Medical Center honored Krause in January, 1977, at an annual dinner in recognition of his service to that organization's community and philanthropic interests. The tribute also included the establishment of an Edward Krause Medical Research Fellowship.

Krause was also named Man of the Year by the Walter Camp Hall of Fame for his lifetime achievements on and off the field.

He has served as the University Division Representative for District Four of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) and was elected to the Honors Court of the NCAA. Presently he continues to serve on the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame honors court.

Krause was married August 29, 1938, to Elizabeth Linden of Chicago. They have three children: Rev. Edward Krause, Jr., C.S.C.; Mary Elise (Mrs. Richard Carrigan) and Philip Charles.

Dan Devine

Head Football Coach

The second-winningest active head coach in college football, Dan Devine has had more than his share of high points in 21 seasons at the collegiate level.

A national championship in 1977 and consecutive victories in the '76 Gator Bowl and '78 and '79 Cotton Bowls have been obvious highlights of his flashy 44-14 record in five years at Notre Dame. Devine's impressive career ledger of 164-54-8 — a mark that includes three years at Arizona State and 13 more at Missouri — provides him with a .743 career winning percentage that ranks eighth among active coaches.

Only Alabama's Bear Bryant with 296 boasts more collegiate triumphs of the active collegiate coaches. And Devine's most recent season totals have come against backbreaking schedules that have ranked among the most challenging in the country. The '78 Irish slate was rated toughest in the nation by NCAA figures, and the '79 list of opponents ended up fourth strongest. Devine's personal 7-2 career mark in post-season bowl competition further solidifies his standing among college coaching's elite.

Devine's '77 squad unanimously claimed the number-one ranking in all the final selections, the first such across-the-board designation in Notre Dame history. The Irish climaxed that national title season with a 38-10 trouncing of top-ranked Texas in the Cotton Bowl — and followed that up with a scintillating 35-34 win over Houston in a return to Dallas the next year that many longtime Irish football observers labeled the greatest comeback in Notre Dame history.

When the 55-year-old Devine officially became Notre Dame's 24th head coach on December 17, 1974, he brought with him a winning background that befitted the tradition-filled Irish program following his tenures at Arizona State, Missouri and as coach and general manager of the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

In his second season in Green Bay, he paced the Packers to a 10-4 record and the NFC Central Division crown in 1972, Green Bay's only division title since 1967. United Press International and the Pro Football Writers Association of America applauded his efforts by naming him the NFC coach of the year — while Football News named him its man of the year.

Devine, one of nine children in a family of six boys and three girls, was born December 23, 1924, in Augusta, Wis. He later moved to Proctor, Minn., a suburb of Duluth where he captained his high school football team.

Entering the University of Minnesota-Duluth, he continued to gain athletic and scholastic distinction. Chosen to captain both the football and basketball teams, he also was elected president of the student body and later received the Alumni Award as UM-D's outstanding senior athlete.

The Army Air Corps interrupted Devine's college education while he served a 2½-year tour of duty as a bombardier before completing his education in 1948, earning a B.A. degree in Social Studies.

He began his coaching career at East Jordan (Mich.) High School, where he produced undefeated campaigns in 1948 and 1949. Following the two seasons at East Jordan, he was named freshman coach at Michigan State University under Clarence (Biggie) Munn and later served as backfield coach under Duffy Daugherty at MSU. While on the coaching staff there, he also earned a master's degree in guidance and counseling in 1952.

In 1955 Devine became a collegiate head coach for the first time at Arizona State University. He compiled a glittering 27-3-1 record during a three-year stay at Tempe, climaxed when his 1957 team was the first unbeaten and nationally-ranked team in Sun Devil history.

That prominence piqued the interest of the University of Missouri, which offered the then-34-year-old Devine its head coaching job. All but three of Devine's Missouri teams finished in the top 20 and his 1960 unit was undefeated in 11 games. During the 1960s, not one of his Tiger teams lost more than three games in a season — and Missouri was the only school in the nation able to make that claim. In 1966 Devine succeeded Don Faurot as athletic director.

In his years at Missouri, Devine became a legend, an eminence he enjoys to this day in the show-me state. Until his Tigers won the 1961 Orange Bowl, Missouri had never won a bowl game, but under him it captured one Orange (1961), one Bluebonnet (1963), one Sugar (1966) and one Gator Bowl (1969) trophy.

Devine also has been honored with several post-season coaching assignments. He served as East-West Shrine Game coach (1961 and 1962), Hula Bowl (1969 and 1978), Japan Bowl (1978), Coaches' All-American Bowl (1970), Salad Bowl (1955) and the Copper Bowl (1957).

Devine married the former Joanne Brookhart in 1947 and they have seven children: Jennifer (Mrs. S. A. Husain), Mary Jo (Mrs. Andrew Carver), Diana (Mrs. James Yazzie), Danny (26), Sarah (23), Melisa (Mrs. Tom Horvath) and Jill (Mrs. Michael Spencer). He has been appointed vice president of the National Muscular Dystrophy Association and was honored with the rarely-presented Silver Chest for championing the cause of multiple sclerosis. Additionally, he serves on the Executive Board of the National Arthritis Foundation.

BRIAN BOULAC — Offensive Line Coach and Recruiting Coordinator
Administrative Assistant to Coach Devine

Former Fighting Irish tight end Brian Boulac enters his second decade of service to the University as offensive line coach. In addition to tutoring the tackles and tight ends on Notre Dame's offensive front line, Boulac oversees and coordinates Irish recruiting efforts, a responsibility he has held for the past four seasons. He also serves as administrative assistant to head coach Dan Devine.

The 10-year veteran offensive line coach earned monograms as a player at Notre Dame from 1960-62. Following his graduation from the University in 1963, Boulac had a tryout with the St. Louis Cardinals, but elected to stay on campus as a graduate assistant coach from 1964-66 while working toward his master's degree. Boulac, who spent two summers in a Peace Corps-type program (CILA) in Lima, Peru, and served two years in the Army Medical Service Corps, remained at Notre Dame through 1968, doing doctoral work and coaching football.

A native of Olympia, Wash., Boulac earned 10 letters in high school while playing football, baseball, basketball and track — and earning all-state honors in football and basketball.

Boulac and his wife, Micki, have four daughters: Dawn, 13; Denise, 12; Deborah, 9; and Dyan, 8.

RON TOMAN — Quarterback and Receiver Coach

As Notre Dame's quarterback and receiver coach, Ron Toman plays a major role in the orchestration of the Fighting Irish passing attack.

Toman, now in his fifth season with the Irish, also works with the offensive backs who often are key figures when Notre Dame puts the ball in the air.

A former quarterback himself, Toman also competed at linebacker and defensive back for Dan Devine during his playing days at Missouri. After receiving his degree in 1960, Toman served as a graduate assistant under Devine while completing work on his master's degree in education.

Toman's full-time coaching career began in 1962 at Springfield (Mo.) High School. He moved to Rich Central High School in Park Forest, Ill., a year later — then served as head coach at Missouri Southern Junior College in Joplin, Mo., between 1963-66. Following a pair of two-year stays at both Wichita State and Northeast Missouri State, he moved to Tulane as offensive backfield coach.

Toman and his wife, the former Bobbi Dickerson, have five children: Steve, 23; Matt, 19; Julie, 17; Jill, 16; and Scott, 14.

JIM GRUDEN — Running Back Coach

Jim Gruden, a third-year member of the Irish football staff, handles coaching responsibilities for Notre Dame's running backs.

Prior to joining the Irish in 1978, Gruden served in the same capacity at Indiana for five years. His other college coaching stops include a four-year stint as offensive backfield coach at Dayton and a three-year stay as assistant football coach at his alma mater, Heidelberg (Ohio) College.

Gruden, a 43-year-old native of Cleveland, Ohio, attended Orange High School in his hometown where he captained the football, basketball and golf teams. He went on to Heidelberg and started for three seasons at quarterback, leading the squad to a 24-3 record during those years and captaining the team as a senior.

He began his coaching career as a football assistant at Ross High School in Fremont, Ohio, in 1958. Six years later Gruden accepted the head coaching job at Galion (Ohio) High School. He returned to Heidelberg in 1966. In addition to his undergraduate degree from Heidelberg, he earned his master's in physical education at Indiana University in 1968.

Gruden and his wife, the former Kathy Kingseed, have three sons: Jimmy, 20; Jon, 17; and Jay, 13.

BILL MEYERS — Offensive Line Coach

Offensive line coach Bill Meyers, who focuses his primary attention on the Irish guards and centers, begins his second season at Notre Dame.

Before linking up with the Irish coaching ranks last year, Meyers spent two seasons as offensive line coach at California-Berkeley.

A two-year starter and all-coast lineman as a player at Stanford, the 33-year-old Meyers was a member of the victorious Cardinal Rose Bowl squads following the 1970 and '71 seasons. Born in Chippewa Falls, Wis., he played his high school football in Long Beach, Calif., and earned All-America junior college honors at Long Beach City College.

After his graduation from Stanford in 1972, Meyers first joined the Cal staff as a graduate assistant working with the defensive line. Two years later, he moved to Santa Clara as linebacker and defensive coach for three seasons.

He rejoined the Cal staff as offensive line coach in 1977. In his first year he helped mold an inexperienced unit into an offensive line that aided the Bears' offense in averaging more than 400 total offensive yards and nearly 30 points per game.

A Marine Corps veteran, Meyers and his wife, Cathie, have a son, Charlie, 7, and a daughter, Michelle, 3.

JOE YONTO — Defensive Coordinator and Line Coach

The veteran of the Notre Dame coaching staff, Joe Yonto enters his 17th season with the Fighting Irish and fourth as defensive coordinator. During his tenure, Yonto has proven a masterful architect by constructing perennially tough Irish defensive lines.

Born in Orrville, Ohio, Yonto played fullback on the 1945 Notre Dame team and guard on the '46 edition. As a senior the following year, he served as an assistant freshman coach after being forced out of action with a leg injury. He has been a part of five national championship teams at Notre Dame, two as a player and three as a coach.

Yonto's high school coaching credits include tenures at St. Mary's in Michigan City, Ind., St. Stephen's in Port Huron, Mich., and Mount Carmel and St. Rita's in Chicago.

Before joining the Notre Dame ranks in 1964, Yonto also coached seven years at Notre Dame High School in Niles, Ill. His teams claimed three consecutive Chicago Suburban Catholic League titles from 1960 through 1962, including a perfect 10-game season in 1961. His 16-year high school coaching record was 96-42-7. He was inducted into the Wayne County Sports Hall of Fame in June, 1979, in Wooster, Ohio.

Named the Notre Dame Man of the Year in 1975 by the St. Joseph Valley Club, Yonto is married to the former Betty Rose of Michigan City, Ind. They have six children: Mary Jo (Mrs. Peter Sullivan), Carol (Mrs. James McDonald), Tony, Robert, Theresa (Mrs. Tim Scott) and Joey.

GEORGE KELLY — Linebacker Coach

Now in his 12th season as an assistant at Notre Dame, George Kelly instructs the Irish linebackers, a group that traditionally paces the squad in tackles made. During his stay at Notre Dame, Kelly and his linebackers have molded some of the top defensive units in the nation.

A native of Rockford, Ill., Kelly first came to the Notre Dame campus as a student in 1949. He played one season of freshman football — but an injury in 1950 cut his competitive career short.

After graduating from Notre Dame in 1953, Kelly remained in South Bend and joined the football staff at St. Joseph's High School. The following year he assumed the head football coaching reins at the school.

Kelly jumped to the collegiate ranks in 1956, beginning as an assistant coach at Marquette. Three years later he moved to Nebraska where he spent eight seasons as an assistant under Husker head coach Bob Devaney. With Kelly a key member of the Nebraska brain trust, the Huskers led the nation in total defense in 1963 and 1967. He joined the Notre Dame staff beginning with the 1969 season.

Kelly and his wife, the former Gloria Haddad, have four children: Barbara (Mrs. Mike Gorbitz), Patti (Mrs. Greg Jurgonski), Lori, 20, and Kevin, 17.

JIM JOHNSON — Defensive Backfield Coach

Previously, Johnson, a native of Broadview, Ill., worked for head coach Lee Corso at Indiana for four years. He handled the Hoosier linebackers and also coordinated the entire Indiana defense.

Johnson attended Proviso East High School in Maywood, Ill., where he played football under former Notre Dame great Andy Puplis. He then took his football talents to Missouri where he starred at both quarterback and safety under Dan Devine from 1960-62. As a two-way starter for the Tigers, Johnson participated in both the Orange Bowl and the Bluebonnet Bowl, earning the MVP award in the latter classic in 1962. After playing in the East-West Shrine game, Johnson signed with the Buffalo Bills and went on to play one season in the NFL as a tight end before entering coaching.

The 38-year-old Johnson began his coaching career as an assistant at Joplin (Mo.) High School, then became head coach at Missouri Southern Junior College. His first team at Missouri Southern finished third in the nation. Johnson moved to Drake as defensive coordinator in 1968 — and remained there until beginning his tenure at Indiana in 1973.

A 1963 graduate of Missouri, Johnson earned his master's degree in physical education the following year. He and his wife, Vicky, have a son, Scott, and a daughter, Michelle.

GENE SMITH — Junior Varsity and Specialty Team Coach

Understanding the needs and concerns of the Notre Dame junior varsity and specialists presents few problems for Gene Smith, an Irish player himself only four years ago.

The 24-year-old Smith is in his fourth season on the Notre Dame staff after beginning as a graduate assistant in 1977. He was named junior varsity coach in March, 1978. Smith also tutors the Irish specialty teams.

Smith came to Notre Dame as a player following a standout career at Chanel High School in Bedford, Ohio, where he lettered seven times in football, basketball and track. The Cleveland, Ohio, native began as an offensive guard but switched to linebacker during his freshman season in which he saw spot duty on the 1973 national championship team. He missed the entire 1974 campaign because of a broken arm suffered during spring drills, then incurred ligament problems the following year. He finished his Notre Dame career as a backup defensive end in 1976.

He and his wife, Paula, are the parents of a daughter, Nicole, 2.

Col. JOHN STEPHENS — Associate Athletic Director

Jack Stephens, a 12-year member of the Notre Dame athletic administrative staff, serves as associate athletic director and Moose Krause's invaluable right-hand man.

Prior to assuming his present position in 1976, Stephens had been an assistant athletic director at Notre Dame since July, 1968, following his voluntary retirement as professor of military science and commanding officer of the Army ROTC unit at the University.

A director of the Walter Camp Football Foundation, Stephens graduated from the University of Iowa and received his master's degree in guidance and counseling from the University of Notre Dame.

After a tenure as a military attache in India, Stephens served as an advisor for the armies of Turkey and South Korea. He has been awarded the Legion of Merit, the Silver Star, the Bronze Star with two oak-leaf clusters and the Purple Heart. He has been an infantry officer in both command and staff assignments at the battalion, regiment and battle group levels. He was inducted into the Infantry Officers' Candidate Hall of Fame in 1966.

Before entering the United States Army, Stephens taught and coached athletics at the high school level in Omaha and St. Louis. He and his wife, Almira, have two daughters, Lesie and Jackie, and a son, John, currently a student in Notre Dame's School of Law.

JOSEPH O'BRIEN — Assistant Athletic Director and Business Manager

During his first four years as assistant athletic director and business manager, Joe O'Brien has handled the business end of three major football bowl trips, four NCAA basketball tournament appearances and an overseas football venture to Japan for last season's Mirage Bowl.

Before joining the Irish athletic staff in May, 1976, O'Brien, a 1949 Notre Dame graduate, spent more than 20 years directing personnel functions at the University, the second largest employer in South Bend.

A native of Philadelphia, Pa., O'Brien served a tour of duty in the Marine Corps and worked in personnel services for both the Whirlpool Corporation and the Oliver Corporation. He returned to his alma mater in 1955.

Active in many civic and community organizations and boards in the Michiana area, O'Brien and his wife, Betty, have one daughter, Susan (Mrs. Larry Davis), a 1976 Notre Dame graduate.

ROGER VALDISERRI — Assistant Athletic Director and Sports Information Director

A 1954 graduate of Notre Dame, Roger Valdiserri heads into his 15th season as sports information director and fifth as assistant athletic director.

Valdiserri served his first stint at his alma mater following his graduation as an administrative assistant to Irish football coach Terry Brennan. In 1959, he went to Mercedes-Benz of North America as public relations director, then moved to the Kansas City Chiefs professional football team as public relations director in 1964. Valdiserri returned to Notre Dame as sports information director in 1966 and added the responsibilities of assistant athletic director in 1976.

Since 1967 he has earned 31 awards from the College Sports Information Directors of America for his sports publications — including 11 NCAA District Four citations for his Notre Dame football and basketball press guides. Valdiserri, a member of the NCAA public relations committee, served as press liaison for the U.S. All-Star basketball team that toured the People's Republic of China in the summer of 1973 — after performing the same duties the previous year with the U.S. fencing team at the Junior World Championships in Spain.

He and his wife, Elaine, have five children: Richard, 25, Kathleen, 24 (both Notre Dame graduates and former Irish fencers), Kenneth, 22 (a 1980 graduate of the University), Thomas, 21, and Susan, 20 (both students and fencers at Notre Dame).

JOHN HEISLER — Assistant Sports Information Director

A native of South Bend, Ind., John Heisler is in his third year as assistant director of sports information at Notre Dame.

The 25-year-old Heisler, who occupied the same position at the University of Missouri for one year prior to coming to Notre Dame, has helped edit 11 award-winning publications in his first two years. Five of those publications — including the football and basketball program series each of the last two years — were judged best in the nation by a College Sports Information Directors of America panel.

Heisler spent four years working in the Missouri sports information office as a student, handling publicity for basketball and several non-revenue sports. He was named the first full-time assistant to Missouri sports information director Bill Callahan in April, 1977 — then moved to Notre Dame one year later. During his stay at Missouri, Heisler served five years as campus correspondent for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and the Associated Press. He also worked two summers as an intern in the Kansas City Star sports department.

Valedictorian of his class at John Adams High School in South Bend, Heisler attended Missouri on a National Merit Scholarship. He received his degree from the School of Journalism in December, 1976.

KAREN CROAKE — Assistant Sports Information Director

Karen Croake moves into her second year as assistant sports information director at Notre Dame following one year in that same capacity at the University of North Carolina.

Since joining the Notre Dame staff in August, 1979, she has helped edit six award-winning publications — including the football and basketball programs and basketball and soccer guide which each were voted best in the nation by the College Sports Information Directors of America. Croake also won national acclaim for her swimming, tennis and lacrosse guides at North Carolina.

A 1976 journalism graduate of Purdue University, Croake spent one year as a sports information student assistant there after working three years as a sports staffer for the Purdue Exponent. She then served two years as a graduate assistant in sports information at Purdue until earning her master's degree in mass communications in 1978.

The 26-year-old Croake attended Jefferson High School in Lafayette, Ind., where she spent the summer of 1977 working for WASK radio news. She is a native of Middletown, Ohio.

MICHAEL BUSICK — Ticket Manager

Mike Busick directs Notre Dame's expanding ticket department that encompasses all University events. His increasingly complex operation now includes the use of the University computer facilities to aid in the allocation, distribution and mailing of athletic tickets.

After starting as assistant ticket manager in September, 1973, Busick assumed the top ticket position in March, 1975. During his four years as an undergraduate at Notre Dame, he served as a student football manager and occupied the head manager spot during the 1972 season. He received his degree in business administration in 1973. He worked for Clairol, Inc., before returning to Notre Dame. He earned his master's degree in business administration from Indiana University in August, 1977.

Busick married the former Judith Mull in 1974— and they have a daughter, Jennifer Lynn, 3, and a son, Jeffrey Michael, 1.

GENE O'NEILL — Varsity Equipment Manager

As varsity equipment manager, Gene O'Neill supervises the procurement, maintenance, storage and distribution of athletic equipment for Notre Dame's 18 men's and women's varsity sports.

O'Neill began his association with the University as football equipment manager in August, 1967, but added the responsibility of overseeing the equipment operations for all varsity sports a year later.

O'Neill served nearly 25 years in the United States Air Force as a non-commissioned officer before retiring in June, 1967. Included in his Air Force tour of duty was an assignment as an instructor in the Notre Dame Air Force ROTC from May, 1954, to August, 1959. O'Neill, a native of Lawrence, Mass., attended the University of Maryland.

Married to the former Helen M. Lewis of White Plains, N.Y., O'Neill and his wife have 11 children: Kathleen, Maribeth, Michael, Daniel and Thomas O'Neill and William, Jr., Mark, Charles, Cathleen, James and Mary-Beth Lewis.

GENE PASZKIET — Head Football Trainer

Now in his 28th season at Notre Dame, Gene Paszkiet serves as head trainer for the Fighting Irish football program.

A native of South Bend, Ind., Paszkiet attended Washington High School where he played end on the 1940 and 1941 football teams. He enrolled at Purdue — but was called into military service before completing a semester.

After a stint with the U.S. Coast Guard, he entered Notre Dame in 1946 and played with the freshman football squad. He dropped football to join the Irish training staff as a student assistant, a position he held until his graduation in January, 1950.

Paszkiet went to work as a member of Hugh Devore's athletic staff at New York University — then returned to Notre Dame in July, 1952.

He and the former Patricia Kedzie of South Bend were married in 1955. They have five children: Mary Patricia, 24, John William, 22, Ann, 20, Robert Stephen, 19, and James Robert, 18.

JOHN WHITMER — Varsity Coordinator of Training

John Whitmer moves into his second year as coordinator of training for all varsity sports following a decade as Notre Dame's assistant trainer.

In addition to responsibility for the administration of the total training program for both the men's and women's varsity sports, Whitmer's duties also include supervision of the weight program for Irish athletics.

Whitmer, who previously worked specifically with the Notre Dame hockey team while aiding Gene Paszkiet with football and other varsity sports, received his undergraduate degree in physical education from Western Michigan. He obtained his master's degree from the same school in 1968.

Whitmer then spent one year as head football trainer at Washington High School in Massillon, Ohio. He came to Notre Dame as assistant trainer in August, 1969.

The 36-year-old Whitmer and his wife, Margaret, have been married for 13 years.

OUTLOOK

The Purdue Boilermakers will arrive in South Bend September 6 with many of the players who have made them the Big Ten's winningest team over the past two seasons (19-4-1) and a bowl victor (Peach and Bluebonnet) in each of those campaigns.

The 1980 Boilermakers are all about an offense that could be second to none with Heisman Trophy hopeful Mark Herrmann pulling the trigger at quarterback, and a defense with holes to fill.

Herrmann, who stands within range of virtually every NCAA career passing record, has completed 530 of 941 career passes for 6734 yards and 48 touchdowns, all Purdue and Big Ten records.

However, the gifted Herrmann is far from the whole Boiler offensive show. Tight end Dave Young, a second-team All-America choice in 1979, Purdue most valuable player last year and the Boilermaker record holder with 18 touchdown pass receptions, might be the nation's best at his position in 1980. Bread-and-butter split end Bart Burrell, a Fred Biletnikoff clone, already owns 74 career grabs. Running backs abound, led by three proven tailbacks—Ben McCall, Wally Jones and Jimmy Smith—and fullback John Macon.

The defense is another story. Gone are many of the names that made it—the "Junk Defense"—one of the nation's best over the past two years. However, All-Big Ten and All-America tackle Calvin Clark will answer the bell, as will gutty outside linebacker Tom Kingsbury, veteran inside linebackers James Looney and Mike Marks, and what figures as Purdue's finest secondary in years with Bill Kay and Larry Perry at the corners, Tim Seneff at strong safety, and Marcus McKinnie at free safety. Kay tied for the Big Ten lead in interceptions one year ago with seven, and Seneff is as good as they come.

OUTLOOK

Michigan moves into its second century of intercollegiate football with several important questions unresolved, yet with enough talent to make the Wolverines again a prime contender for the Big Ten championship.

The loss of All-American Curtis Greer, Dale Keitz and Chris Godfrey at defensive tackle was Bo Schembechler's first priority. He moved linebackers Winfred Carraway and Bill Bonnell to tackle where these two sophomores join letterwinner Dave Nicolau and junior Cedric Coles.

Sophomore Rich Hewlett and senior John Wangler head up the quarterback group. Behind those two are senior Jim Breaugh and sophomore Steve O'Donnell. Stanley Edwards and Lawrence Ricks are running at both fullback and tailback.

Of course, game-breaker Anthony Carter leads an explosive group of wide receivers, while tailback Butch Woolfolk is back after winning All-Big Ten honors. Fullback Jerald Ingram and tailback Mike Cade are also exceptional running backs.

Strong safety Stu Harris is the only starter returning in the defensive secondary. Middle guard Mike Trgovac and linebacker Andy Cannavino, who was Michigan's leading tackler last season, are two juniors who rate among the finest defensive players at their positions in the Midwest.

This year's squad includes 36 letterwinners from past seasons. Bo has 11 starters returning, seven on offense and four on defense, in addition to Powers, a regular guard in 1978. There are 23 letterwinners missing from last year's squad that finished third in the Big Ten (6-2) and went on to lose to North Carolina in the Gator Bowl. The defeats were all narrow (12-10 to Notre Dame, 24-21 to Purdue, 18-15 to Ohio State and 17-15 to North Carolina).

OUTLOOK

Michigan State football faces a heavy rebuilding year in 1980. New head coach Frank "Muddy" Waters and seven new assistant coaches inherit a unit that went 5-6 in 1979 and lost 20 lettermen, including 12 starters. Returning to them are 38 lettermen from the 1979 club plus four athletes who had lettered in 1978.

State has no established quarterback, and faces personnel problems at offensive and defensive tackles, inside linebackers and at tight end. MSU possesses an excellent kicking game with the presence of All-America punter Ray Stachowicz (44.3 average) and soccer-style place kicker Morten Andersen who hit all of his 25 extra-point tries and connected on 11 field goal attempts, including five of 50 yards or more.

The Spartans have fine runners in tailbacks Steve Smith (top ground gainer with 974 yards) and Bruce Reeves, and in fullbacks Derek Hughes and Andy Schramm. Hughes was shifted from tailback where he gained 626 yards and was the nation's second-leading kickoff return specialist. The Spartans also have potentially solid receiving corps representatives with the likes of Samson Howard and Jim Williams and a defensive back group that includes standout cornerback Jim Burroughs.

There is hope that out of six quarterback candidates, a solid starter will emerge. Top contenders are Bert Vaughn, who started the first four games a year ago, and Bryan Clark, who handled the club late in the season. Sophs Otis Grant and John Leister could work into the picture. Vaughn passed for 729 yards and four scores and Clark tossed for 800 yards and four TDs in 1979 work.

Among other veterans who can aid the Spartan cause are senior middleguard Bernard Hay, third-ranking tackler in 1979; linebacker John McCormick and defensive tackle Pat Mitten.

OUTLOOK

Coming off a learning campaign a year ago that saw a young freshman- and sophomore-dominated squad win five games and lose six, Miami enters this new decade with a year of experience under the direction of Howard Schnellenberger.

Super talent returns in middle guard Jim Burt and split end Pat Walker—both bona fide All-America candidates.

A weak ground game last season will be strengthened with the addition of three prep All-America running backs. Robert "Speedy" Neal, Freddie Miles and Keith Griffin all are expected to challenge for backfield positions as first-year men.

Along with Burt, the defensive line troops loom strong with Lester Williams and Bob Nelson both returning as starters from last season. Greg Zappala, who ended the latter part of last season as a defensive end starter, will return at that spot with Tim Flanagan assuming the other defensive end post.

Virtually all of the linebacking corps return, headed by reckless, hard-hitting Scott Nicolas (leading tackler in 1979) and Mozell Axson. The Hurricanes have tough defensive backs in returnees Fred Marion, David Jefferson, Mark Smith, John Swain and Jamie Boone.

The offensive line, though stronger than a year ago, will still be the question mark in the Miami attack. Jim Pokorney, John Canei and Art Kehoe anchor the offensive line charge.

Mark Cooper and Jay Brophy will challenge Andy Baratta for the starting tight end position. Reliable James Joiner and Larry Brodsky provide a solid one-two punch at flankerback.

All quarterbacks return. Jim Kelly and Mike Rodrique split time a year ago, with Kelly ending the season as commanding field general.

Series Record vs. Notre Dame: 8-31-4

OUTLOOK

Despite the absence of a proven quarterback, Lou Saban describes his Army offense as "stable." Earle Mulrane, the starter in 1978 and 1979, won't be available due to graduation, leaving three candidates to fill the vacancy. They are Jerryl Bennett, the only letterman of the trio, Bob Ryan and T. D. Decker.

The picture at running back may not be clear until Army opens camp in August. The reason for that is fullback Jimmy Hill, who underwent knee surgery last fall. Hill led the Cadets in rushing two years ago with a net of 678 yards, and last fall piled up 441 yards before going down in the seventh game. Halfback Gerald Walker ranked second in rushing in 1979, and appears ready to make a more sizable contribution this time around.

The receiving berths should be in capable hands. Mike Fahnestock should return at split end, with Larry Pruitt again at flanker and Mark McKearn at tight end.

Six starters return from last year's Navy game: tackles Stan March and Kevin Dodson, inside linebacker John Garrison, outside linebacker Bob Wood and defensive backs Jeff Cook and Chris Zawie. They, along with safety Dale Love and inside linebackers Dan Kessler and Steve Gerras, represent the cream of the defensive crop.

Nose guards Charlie Swanson and Andy Evans hopefully will develop. Swanson played enough behind All-America George Mayes last year to earn a letter, while Evans lettered in 1978 but opted not to play football last fall.

Kicking specialist Dave Aucoin offers a solid plus after leading the Cadets in scoring last year.

OUTLOOK

When new head coach Larry Smith took over the reins at Arizona last April, he was smiling. Unquestionably at the job opportunity, but also at the 40 returning lettermen, which includes 12 starters.

Topping that group is All-America fullback candidate Hubert Oliver, a second-team All-Pacific-10 selection and one of only three men in the conference to rush for over 1,000 yards —netting 1,021. Also back are fellow All-Pac-10 second teamers safety Dave Liggins, who led the conference in interceptions, and cornerback Marcellus Greene, 10th in the nation in punt returns, plus defensive tackle Mike Robinson and offensive tackle Bill Jensen.

Others back include senior tight end Bill Nettling, offensive guards John Wozniak and Tom Manno, linebackers Jack Housley and Sam Giangardella, safety Reggie Ware and junior split end Tim Holmes.

One national recruiting service ranked Arizona's 1980 class 14th in the nation, and it's hoped the multitude of linemen—headed by Parade All-America middle guard Ivan Lesnik—will keep the Wildcats headed in the right direction in the Pacific-10.

Quarterback remained a question mark after spring practice, with sophomores Mark Fulcher, Kevin Ward and Gil Compton all vying strongly for the starting nod. Helping Oliver will be senior Rich Hersey and freshman redshirt Brian Holland at tailback and sophomore Darwin Ulmer at fullback.

Linebacker should be Arizona's strongest position, with no less than six potential starters at the two inside spots, including Housley, Giangardella, JC transfer John Pace, senior Gus Tucker, junior Glenn Perkins and sophomore Kelvin Hawthorne. Outside starters will come from Bob Gareeb, Jerry Krohn, Kevin Hardcastle, Mike Meyer and Gary Gibson.

NAVY • NOVEMBER 1 • 1:30 EST
at GIANTS STADIUM, EAST RUTHERFORD, NJ

OUTLOOK

Navy steps into the 1980 football season with George Welsh challenged to find a quarterback and a couple of offensive linemen to go along with his talented contingent of running backs, and some ends to support the solid interior on defense. Perhaps most important of all, however, Welsh does have a host of players who have been a part of the 16-7 record in the sport at the Naval Academy the past two years, including a 7-4 mark a year ago.

As he moves into his eighth year at Navy, the innovative Welsh will have 28 returning lettermen available, among whom are five of the top six running backs on last year's ground-oriented squad, an All-America prospect in offensive guard Frank McCallister, a sturdy defensive interior line group, two fine linebackers in Mike Kronzer and Ted Dumbauld and a fairly seasoned secondary headed by three-year regular Fred Reitzel.

Welsh is anxious to develop a more stabilized passing attack than the one of a year ago which netted the Mids only 990 yards. He also must replace three starters on the offensive line and restructure the graduation-depleted defensive end corps.

The strength at running back starts with junior Eddie Meyers, who wound up as the team's top rusher with 651 yards on 106 carries while playing basically in just four games.

Welsh will examine a host of prospects at quarterback, including sophomores Tom Tarquinio, Jeff Korn, Rich Fabian and Tony Coloa and junior Mark Fitzgerald. Tarquinio may have a slight edge since he was the chief backup at the end of 1979. The wide receiver contingent is headed by senior Dave Dent, sophomore Troy Mitchell and junior Greg Papajohn, another letterman. Tight-end Curt Gainer is an All-East prospect and senior Matt McLaughlin is another letterman at that position.

GEORGIA TECH • NOVEMBER 8 • 1:30 EST
at GRANT FIELD, ATLANTA, GA

OUTLOOK

The 1980 Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets will be young, should be exciting and could be a pretty good football team by season's end.

The youth will be most obvious on offense, where six sophomores are slated for starting roles. Some key performers do return, however. Junior Mike Kelley, who set five school records in 1979—most passes completed, 149; most passes attempted, 300; most passing yardage, 2,051; most total offense, 2,107; and most yards, total offense in one game, 376 vs. Navy—is primed for his third year as the Jackets' No. 1 quarterback.

Also back are his three favorite receivers and sophomore tailback Ronny Cone, Tech's top rusher last year with 617 yards in 126 carries for a 4.9 average and four touchdowns. Split ends Kris Kentera and Marlon Heggs and flanker Leon Chadwick each caught 25 passes in 1979, Kentera for 526 yards, a Tech record 21.0 average.

David Allen, extremely quick and surprisingly strong at 5-9, 197 pounds, is the likely first string fullback after playing nose guard in 1979.

Defensively, Tech's sparkplugs will be end Rick Olive, outside linebacker Lance Skelton and cornerback Ken Taylor. All are talented veterans. The line should be bolstered by the return of Mark Bradley, moved from end to nose guard, and end Marvin Dyett, both of whom missed most of 1979 with knee injuries. The secondary returns intact, but the linebacking corps underwent critical graduation losses.

The Jackets, who finished 4-6-1 last year under Pepper Rodgers, have adjusted well to new Head Coach Bill Curry. Because they lack depth they can't afford major injuries. But, if they can do that and if some young players develop quickly, the Jackets should improve as the season goes along.

OUTLOOK

Rebuilding practically the entire offense from last year's national championship team looms as the biggest task facing Paul "Bear" Bryant as he looks to 1980.

Gone are several of the gems which have shined the brightest in the Crimson Tide's 1978 and 1979 national crowns. Last year's graduating class included the entire offensive line, the top two rushers in quarterback Steadman Shealy and fullback Steve Whitman plus several key players from the nation's stoutest defense.

While halfbacks Major Ogilvie and Billy Jackson are the only returning starters on offense, seven regulars will return to vie for starting spots on defense.

Quarterback remains a question since senior Don Jacobs, Shealy's backup last year, missed spring drills while recovering from knee surgery. The experience behind Jacobs is limited as junior Alan Gray and sophomore Michael Landrum played sparingly during 1979.

Ogilvie, who was hampered by injuries most of last season, returns as the team's leading rusher. He picked up 512 yards last year. Jacobs rushed for 448 yards and passed for an additional 198.

It appears to be a wide-open contest for the spots on the offensive line. The Tide graduated an outstanding unit from tight end to split end including All-Americas Jim Bunch and Dwight Stephenson. Keith Marks has experience at split end as he replaced Keith Pugh during an injury-plagued midseason for the Tide.

Experience on the offensive interior will come from five lettermen—guard Scott Allison, guard Vince Cowell, tackle Eddie McCombs, guard Joe Robbins and guard Gary Bramblett.

Defensively, the Tide returns five All-SEC performers—tackle Byron Braggs, end E. J. Junior, linebacker Thomas Boyd and backs Jim Bob Harris and Tommy Wilcox.

OUTLOOK

A new era will open in Air Force football this fall when the Falcons start play in the Western Athletic Conference. It will be the first time Falcon football has ever played in a league and, with 41 returning lettermen, second-year head coach Ken Hatfield is hoping for a successful debut.

Among the 41 returning lettermen are 13 starters, including eight on defense. Several of the returning starters figure to be among the best in the WAC next fall—junior linebacker Mike France, junior defensive back Johnny Jackson and senior tight end and punter Scott Schafer.

France came up with 106 tackles last fall while Jackson, a two-year starter, led the team in pass interceptions with two besides adding 63 tackles. He also led the team with 11 pass breakups. Schafer, a three-year regular at punter, averaged 41.2 yards per kick last season and also moved in as the starting tight end, finishing as the second-leading pass receiver with 21 for 218 yards and a touchdown.

Besides Schafer, the other returning starters on offense include senior Steve Burns at flanker, junior Fred Cianciolo at strong guard, senior Ned Rudd at quick guard and junior Al Wiley at quick tackle.

The Falcons' strength this fall, at least in the early going, should be on defense with the entire secondary back, headed by Jackson. Other returning starters in the backfield include junior David Carraway at free safety, junior Doug Dunbar at cornerback and senior Bob Renaud, also at cornerback. Both starting defensive ends return in juniors Jim Dahlmann and Chris Reymann. Another returning defensive starter is senior linebacker Mike Bloomfield, who contributed 91 tackles in 1979, third-best mark on the team.

OUTLOOK

Some top stars graduated from last year's unbeaten (11-0-1) Southern Cal powerhouse, but there's still a flock of experienced talent coming back. And the Trojans will definitely be in the spotlight at the start of the season. They'll go in with a 20-game unbeaten streak.

Also going into the opener will be 13 returning starters—six on offense and seven on defense—from the team that rallied to whip undefeated Ohio State, 17-16, in the Rose Bowl.

This year's heir to USC's tailback tradition is junior Marcus Allen, who averaged 5.7 a carry and scored eight touchdowns as the starting fullback last season, and he'll be joined by another returning backfield regular, flanker Kevin Williams.

Williams is already the school career record holder with 21 touchdown catches, and he'll again team up with that trio of tight ends Hoby Brenner and James Hunter and tight end-flanker Vic Rakhshani.

These four receivers will make the transition to a new quarterback easier, with five potential starters to choose from: sophomores Scott Tinsley, Jim Arrivey, George Ponce, Timmy White and senior Gordon Adams.

The Trojans traditionally have an offensive line that can move mountains, and planning to do it again are All-America tackle and guard candidates Keith Van Horne and Roy Foster. Don Mosebar is also back at tackle.

But it's the defense that will give USC a chance to have an outstanding team early in the season. Seven starters and nine of the top 13 tacklers return, led by three All-Pac-10 picks —linebacker Riki Gray and defensive backs Ronnie Lott and Dennis Smith. Lott, Smith and Gray are all potential All-Americans.

NCAA Chevrolet Scholarship Program

Since the inauguration of the Chevrolet Scholarship Program in 1971, the University of Notre Dame general scholarship fund has received a total of $27,000 in scholarships to be awarded in the name of Irish players who have been chosen player of the game on ABC's NCAA football telecasts. Chevrolet has contributed 22 individual $1,000 scholarships to Notre Dame student-athletes — and the University also received an additional $5,000 in 1975 when Steve Niehaus was chosen Chevrolet's defensive player of the year.

Origin of 'Fighting Irish'

Exactly where and how Notre Dame's athletic nickname, "Fighting Irish," came to origination and acceptance never has been perfectly explained.

One story suggests the moniker was born in 1887, Notre Dame's first season of football. With Notre Dame leading Northwestern 5-0 at halftime of a game in Evanston, Ill., the Wildcat fans began to chant, "Kill the Fighting Irish, kill the Fighting Irish," as the second half opened.

Another tale has the nickname originating at halftime of the Notre Dame-Michigan game in 1909. With his team trailing, Notre Dame quarterback John Murphy yelled to his teammates — who happened to have names like Dolan, Kelly, Glen, Duffy and Ryan — "What's the matter with you guys? You're all Irish and you're not fighting worth a lick." Notre Dame came back to win the game and the press, after overhearing the remark, reported the game as a victory for the "Fighting Irish."

The most generally accepted explanation is that the press coined the nickname as a characterization of Notre Dame athletic teams, their never-say-die fighting spirit and their Irish qualities of grit, determination and tenacity. The term likely began as an abusive expression tauntingly directed toward the athletes from the small, private, Catholic institution.

The Notre Dame Scholastic, in a 1929 edition, printed its own version of the story:

"The term 'Fighting Irish' has been applied to Notre Dame teams for years. It first attached itself years ago when the school, comparatively unknown, sent its athletic teams away to play in another city. . . . At that time the title 'Fighting Irish' held no glory or prestige. . . .

"The years passed swiftly and the little school began to take a place in the sports world. . . . 'Fighting Irish' took on a new meaning. The unknown of a few years past has boldly taken a place among the leaders. The unkind appellation became symbolic of the struggle for supremacy of the field. . . . The term, while given in irony, has become our heritage. . . . So truly does it represent us that we are unwilling to part with it. . . ."

Notre Dame-Mutual Radio Network

TONY ROBERTS

AL WESTER

Notre Dame and the Mutual Broadcasting System mark their 13th consecutive season as a national broadcast team in 1980. With approximately 350 stations throughout the country, Notre Dame football covers virtually every corner of the nation. Many Fighting Irish games also can be heard on the Armed Forces Radio Network overseas.

Veteran announcers Tony Roberts and Al Wester will handle the broadcasting chores—with Roberts serving as play-by-play specialist and Wester providing expert analysis.

A native of Chicago, Ill., Roberts has been a familiar name to Mutual listeners while serving as play-by-play announcer for Notre Dame basketball, National Football League Sunday afternoon games and National Basketball Association playoff contests.

Named Washington, D.C., Sportscaster of the Year for seven consecutive years, Roberts boasts a long list of radio credits. He previously has served as the voice of Indiana University football and basketball, Navy football, Washington Senators baseball and Washington Bullets basketball.

Aside from his schedule of play-by-play events, Roberts also broadcasts daily sports shows for Mutual and anchored the network's coverage of the 1980 Olympics from Lake Placid, N.Y.

Wester returns to the microphone this fall as color analyst following three seasons as the play-by-play voice of the Fighting Irish. He has been a sportscaster with Mutual since 1948 and now is in his second decade of covering Notre Dame football.

A native Texan, Wester now lives in New Orleans and has handled a variety of assignments for Mutual, including a lengthy list of major golf tournaments, horse races, Indianapolis 500 races and numerous college and pro football contests, many of them post-season or bowl games.

Notre Dame-Metro Replay Network

LOU BODA

GEORGE CONNOR

Metro Communications Sports of Washington, D.C., will continue the 16-year tradition of Notre Dame football delayed telecasts this year — with plans for expansion to a two-hour format slated for viewing beginning on Saturday night.

Describing the action, which will be available in nearly every major market in the country, will be play-by-play sportscaster Lou Boda and expert commentator George Connor.

A native of South Bend, Ind., Boda boasts an extensive radio and television background that has included lengthy stints for both NBC and the American Information Radio Network. A veteran of play-by-play work for NCAA and AFL football at NBC, he also hosted a special sports anthology entitled "Sports in Action."

In addition to serving as sports voice for the American Information Radio Network, Boda has anchored network coverage of the '76 Summer Olympics, the '80 Winter Olympics, the '80 Sugar Bowl and Kentucky Derby and the second Ali-Spinks championship fight.

Boda began his career working at stations in Dover, Ohio; Joplin, Mo.; Wichita Falls, Tex.; and New Orleans following his graduation from Indiana University.

Captain of the Irish 1946 and 1947 national championship teams, Connor received All-America honors both seasons as a Notre Dame offensive tackle. The Chicago native earned the first Outland Trophy in 1946—then went on to star with the Chicago Bears for eight seasons. An all-pro choice on six occasions, Connor has been named to both the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame and the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Now an executive with the Hoerner Waldorf Corporation in Chicago, Connor spent two seasons as a Bears assistant coach following his retirement as a player. He served many years as a color commentator on the Bears' CBS telecasts.

Irish Rank High In Academic Derby

Over the past 15 years, Notre Dame student-athletes have been the recipients of 33 academic grants for postgraduate study. The grants have been awarded by national organizations, educational foundations and institutions including the NCAA, the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame and the Danforth Foundation, among others.

Each year the NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship Committee awards academic grants to qualified student-athletes. Notre Dame students have received 18 to date. The most recent Notre Dame recipient is former All-America hockey player Greg Meredith who received a grant from the NCAA last spring.

The University always has placed a high degree of emphasis on the education of the individual student-athlete, stressing the obvious fact that earning an undergraduate degree is the primary objective of the Notre Dame experience. As late as 1976, an independent researcher documented that every former Notre Dame football player playing professional football had received his degree. Thus Notre Dame led the way with a 100 per cent degree production by its 24 graduates in the pro ranks.

Notre Dame Bowl Game Statistics

The NCAA and Notre Dame consider only regular-season games — no post-season bowl games — in the compilation of season and career statistics. The following capsule summaries of individual statistics from bowl games should provide a more complete recording of career collegiate statistics for a number of Irish players who rank high on Notre Dame season or career statistical charts:

Joe Theismann — '70 Cotton vs. Texas (rushing 11-48, passing 27-17-2-231, 2 TDs), '71 Cotton vs. Texas (rushing 18-22, passing 16-9-1-176, 1 TD)

Tom Gatewood — '70 Cotton vs. Texas (receiving 6-112, 1 TD), '71 Cotton vs. Texas (receiving 2-43, 1 TD)

Bob Thomas — '73 Orange vs. Nebraska (FG miss from 52), '74 Sugar vs. Alabama (FG made from 19, miss from 54, 1-1 PAT)

Wayne Bullock — '74 Sugar vs. Alabama (rushing 19-79, 1 TD) '75 Orange vs. Alabama (rushing 24-83, 1 TD)

Tom Clements — '73 Orange vs. Nebraska (rushing 6-minus 22, passing 22-9-3-103, 1 TD), '74 Sugar vs. Alabama (rushing 15-74, passing 12-7-0-169), '75 Orange vs. Alabama (rushing 11-26, passing 7-4-1-19)

Peter Demmerle — '73 Orange vs. Nebraska (receiving 1-5, 1 TD) '74 Sugar vs. Alabama (receiving 3-59), '75 Orange vs. Alabama (receiving 2-12)

Eric Penick — '73 Orange vs. Nebraska (rushing 8-48), '74 Sugar vs. Alabama (rushing 9-28, 1 TD), '75 Orange vs. Alabama (rushing 6-15)

Al Hunter — '74 Sugar vs. Alabama (rushing 4-26, KO return 1-93, 1 TD), '77 Gator vs. Penn State (rushing 26-102, 2 TDs, receiving 1-13, KO return 1-25)

Ken MacAffee — '77 Gator vs. Penn State (receiving 5-78), '78 Cotton vs. Texas (receiving 4-45)

Dave Reeve — '75 Orange vs. Alabama (FG miss from 42), '77 Gator vs. Penn State (FG made from 23 and 23, miss from 55, 2-2 PAT), '78 Cotton vs. Texas (FG made from 47, miss from 39, 5-5 PAT)

Jerome Heavens — '78 Cotton vs. Texas (rushing 22-101), '79 Cotton vs. Houston (rushing 16-71, receiving 4-60)

Joe Montana — '78 Cotton vs. Texas (rushing 1-3, passing 25-10-1-111, 1 TD), '79 Cotton vs. Houston (rushing 7-26, 2 TDs, passing 34-13-4-163, 1 TD)

All-Time Notre Dame Team Records

Modern college football records begin with the 1937 season, the advent of NCAA statistics. Notre Dame's modern records (indicated by MR) are also listed in categories where the all-time record was set prior to 1937. The modern records are not necessarily second best to the all-time mark, only the best since 1937.

Football Streak Breakers

NOTRE DAME 0 ARMY 0 . . . November 9, 1946. The Irish snapped the Cadets' 25-game victory string with this tie before 74,000 fans at Yankee Stadium in New York. Notre Dame defenders were the heroes this day as they successfully contained Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis. Both teams barely eclipsed the 200-yard mark in total offense. The Irish avenged 59-0 and 48-0 defeats to Army the previous two years.

NOTRE DAME 27 GEORGIA TECH 14 . . . October 24, 1953. Heisman Trophy winner John Lattner got the Irish off to an auspicious beginning by advancing the opening kickoff 80 yards to set up Notre Dame's first score. The victory ended Georgia Tech's 31-game unbeaten streak, then the longest in college football history.

NOTRE DAME 7 OKLAHOMA 0 . . . November 16, 1957. Notre Dame halfback Dick Lynch scored the only touchdown of the day as the Irish ended the Sooners' 47-game winning streak, still the longest in college football history. The Irish had been the last team to defeat Oklahoma before that contest, as they had been victorious on September 26, 1953, by a 28-21 count.

NOTRE DAME 24 TEXAS 11 . . . January 1, 1971. Joe Theismann paced the Irish to victory in the Cotton Bowl that ended the Longhorns' 30-game winning streak. Theismann accounted for three scores on the ground and in the air in the first half to give Notre Dame a 24-11 lead at halftime. The Irish defense, led by Walt Patulski and Mike Kadish, shut out the potent Texas offense in the second half and forced five fumbles.

NOTRE DAME 23 USC 14 . . . October 27, 1973. Eric Penick's 85-yard burst early in the third quarter keyed Notre Dame's triumph that ended the Trojans' 23-game unbeaten string. This victory in Notre Dame Stadium was the pivotal triumph in Notre Dame's 1973 National Championship season.

All-Time Roster — 1887-1979

Following are the names of all 1,881 Notre Dame football players who have played at least ONE SECOND in at least one varsity game. Each year listed is the season the player participated in a game. For additional information on a particular player (position, height, weight, monograms won) refer to the All-Time Notre Dame Lineups beginning on page 76.

Notre Dame All-Americans

98* Notre Dame players have been honored on All-America first-team selections recognized by the NCAA for its official All-Time Roster. Additionally, 39 other greats, who did not receive first-team recognition, were accorded second-team honors on at least one of the selections.

Following are Notre Dame's first- and second-team awards, indicated by (1) and (2) by those agencies composing the All-Time Roster. (Also listed for information purposes are the teams chosen by The Sporting News from 1965, Football News and Time magazine, which are not part of the official compilation.)

*Actually 95. Hunk Anderson (1921), Roger Kiley (1921, but a first-team member in 1920), Ed DeGree (1922) and Don Miller (1923) were picked by INS, but their selections for those seasons were not available at the time of the formation of the Roster and Anderson, DeGree and Miller have never been included retroactively.
